

National Science Foundation

COMMUNITY COLLEGE INNOVATION CHALLENGE

Maker to Manufacturer, Energy & Environment, and Security Technologies

Enter today at www.nsf.gov/CCchallenge

- WHO: Teams of three to five community college students, a faculty mentor, and a community or industry partner.
- WHAT: Teams proposing innovative, STEM-based solutions for real-world problems they identify within one of three themes:
- Maker to Manufacturer.
 - Energy and Environment.
 - Security Technologies.
- WHEN: Submission window: Oct. 14, 2016, to 11:59 p.m. EST, Feb. 15, 2017.
Required Innovation Boot Camp for finalists in Arlington, Va.: June 12, 2017, to June 15, 2017
- WHERE: Visit www.nsf.gov/CCchallenge.
- WHY: To foster the development of crucial innovation skills, win prizes and professional development.

More questions? Contact CCIC team at InnovationChallenge@nsf.gov.

Follow the Challenge: #CCICChallenge

National Science Foundation

Credit: (left to right) Ryan Choi, Utah State University; ©iStock.com/zhengzaishuru; ©iStock.com/Kirill_Savenko; Andrew Kelly/NY Hall of Science